

Enjoy Port Townsend

WWW.ENJOYPT.COM

Strait of Juan de Fuca

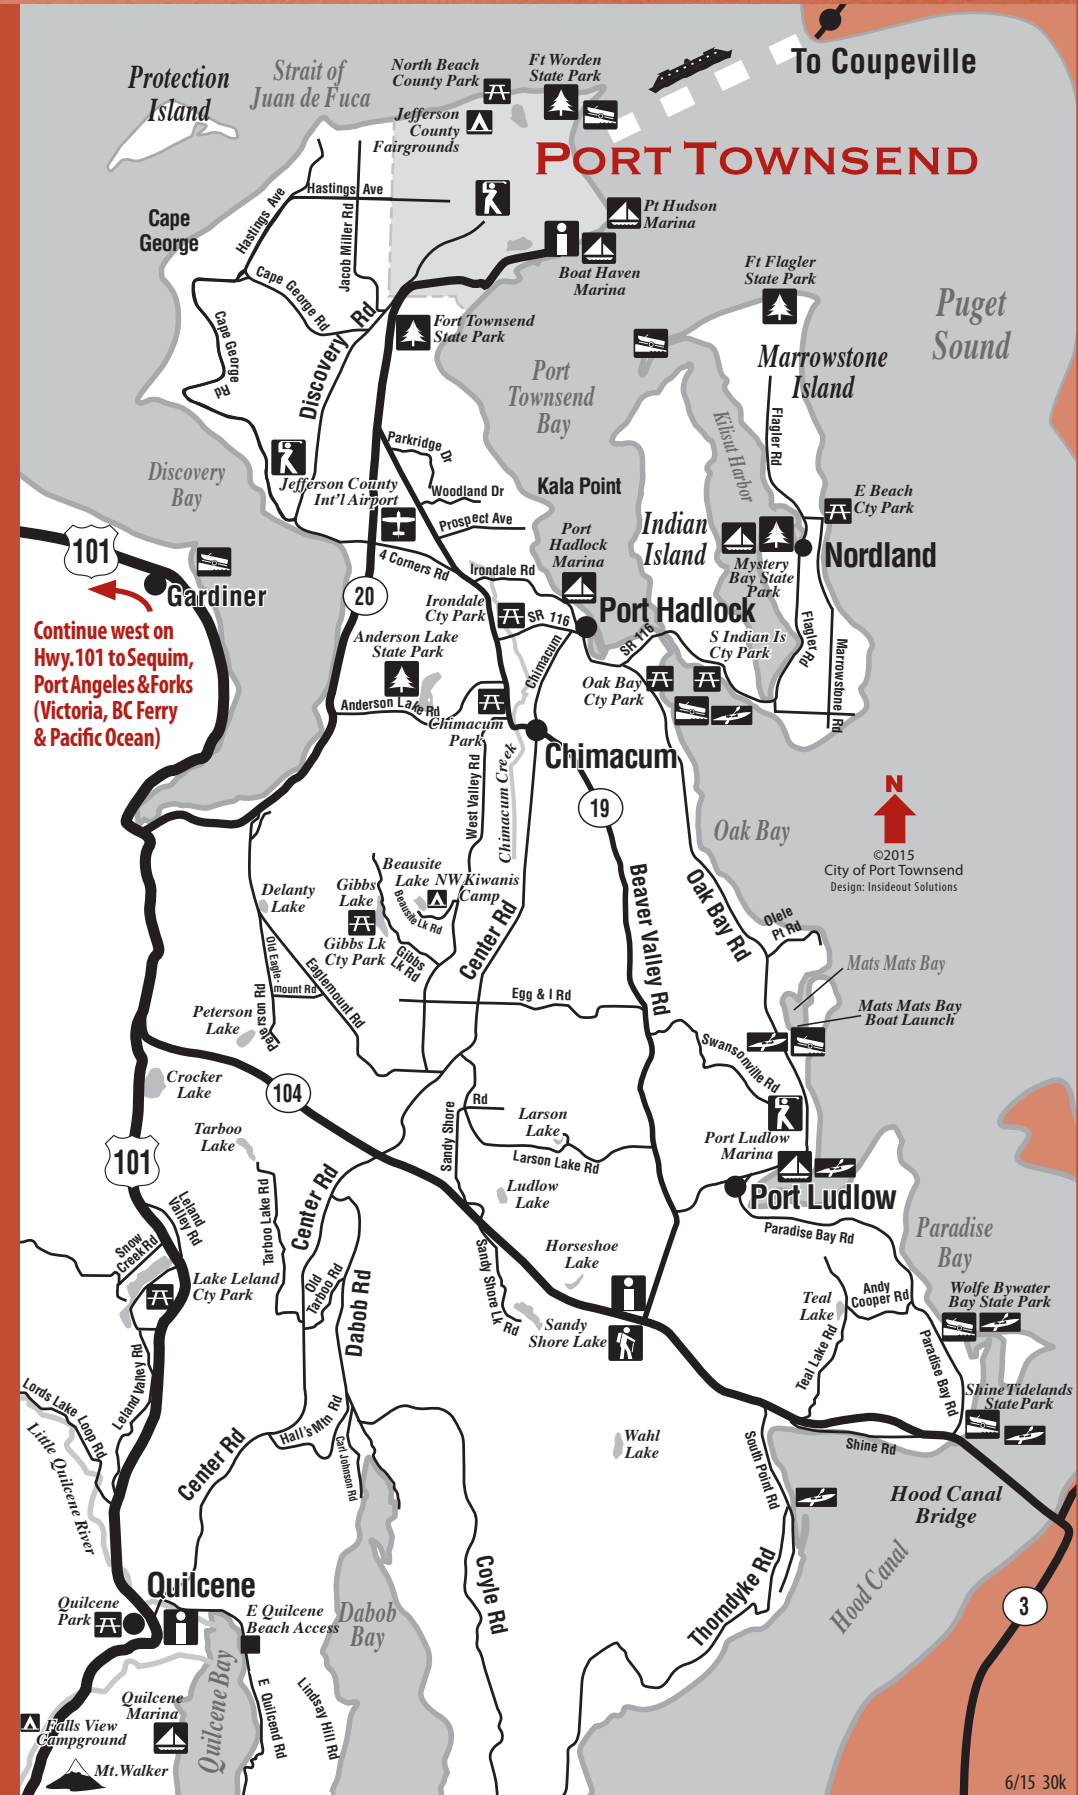

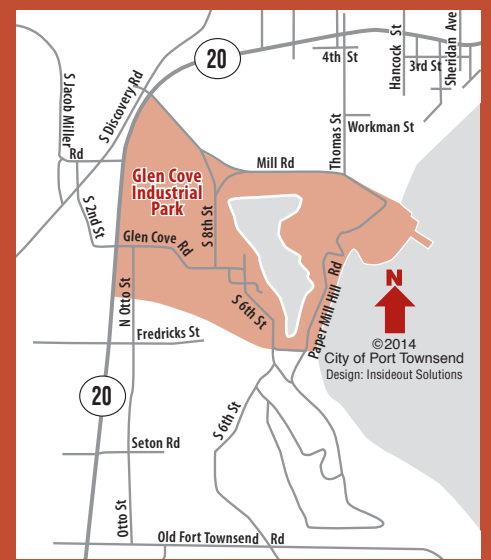

For more information:
WWW.ENJOYPT.COM
360.385.2722

MAP KEY

- State Park
- City/County Park
- Marina (and Kayaking)
- Campground
- Information Center
- Golf Course
- Trail Head
- Boat Launch
- Kayaking
- Ferry
- Restrooms
- Parking
- Bus
- Hospital

SOUTH QUIMPER PENINSULA

See detailed map to the right:
South Quimper Peninsula

See other side for detailed map of
Uptown & Downtown

Continue west on
Hwy. 101 to Sequim,
Port Angeles & Forks
(Victoria, BC Ferry
& Pacific Ocean)

Enjoy Port Townsend

TOUR OF HISTORIC HOMES & BUILDINGS

To Ft. Worden State Park and Museums

To Visitor Information Center
2409 Jefferson St.
360.385.2722

- Captain Tibbals Building (1889), now the Palace Hotel, was a "rooming house."
- Lighthouse Café Building (pre-1880), former home of the renowned Axtel Saloon.
- James and Hasting Building (1889).
- Sterming Block (1889), built by George Sterming for his Belmont Saloon/Hotel.
- Mount Baker Block (1890), built as office building during railroad days.
- Hastings Building (1889), built by pioneer Lucinda Hastings and her children.
- C.F. Clapp Building (1885), the earliest building in the city with a cast iron façade.
- Waterman & Katz Building (1885), formerly the W&K dry goods store.
- Bishop Block (1891), built by British sailor and builder, William Bishop.
- Enoch S. Fowler Building (1874) was the county courthouse in territorial days.
- Haller Fountain (1906), donated by Theodore Haller in memory of his father, Granville O. Haller, commander of Port Townsend.
- Rose Theatre (1907), still downtown's movie house, it was restored in 1992.
- Francis Wilcox James House (1891), built by the James family; a private residence.
- Customs House (1893), holds the U.S. Post Office and other public agencies.
- F.W. Hastings House (1889), now Old Consulate Inn B&B.
- O'Rear House (1891), winner of 2004 State Historic Preservation Award.
- Jefferson County Courthouse (1892), one of two oldest government buildings in State; features 100-foot-high clock tower.
- Harry Barthrop House (1880), a Georgian-style home, now the Quimper Inn B&B.
- N.D. Hill House (1868), a Victorian Gothic home, now the Blue Gull Inn B&B.
- Captain James McIntyre House (1871), built for his bride, Sophie Pettygrove.
- Captain Thomas Grant House (1887), a fine example of Italianate Villa style.
- Thomas Hammond House (1890), Victorian home with unusual corner fireplace.
- Henry Wylie House (1889), Queen Anne "cottage" with excellent decorative detail.
- Old Catholic Church (1890), used until 1958 and now a private residence.
- Charles Pink House (1868), featuring Late Greek revival architecture.
- Carnegie Library (1913), the city library built with Carnegie Foundation funds.
- R.C. Hill House (1872), a pioneer family home.
- George Downs House (1886), noted for its artistic stained glass windows.
- H.L. Tibbals House (1877), built by a major town leader.
- Colonel Henry Landes House (1882), home of a retired colonel who later became a state senator.
- First Presbyterian Church (1890), Queen Anne-style building with an impressive antique pipe organ.
- Captain Enoch S. Fowler Home (1860), Port Townsend's oldest remaining home.
- Frank A. Bartlett Home (1883) has a French mansard roof and fine architectural lines.
- St. Paul's Episcopal Church (1865).
- Old Bell Tower (1890) once summoned the town's volunteer firemen.
- Rothschild House State Park (1868), built by prominent merchant. Summer tours, admission.
- Baker House (1898), former home of a prominent dentist.
- St. Paul's Episcopal Parish Hall (1860s), arrived by barge, moved in 1999.
- Captain DeLeon House (1883), Italianate Renaissance-style home.
- George Starrett House (1889), notable Victorian home, now Ann Starrett Mansion Hotel.
- Trinity Methodist Church (1871), the state's oldest Methodist church.
- Peter Mutty House (1881), still has the iron grillwork removed from many Victorian houses.
- Edward Sims Home (1886), former home of noted state legislator. Remodeled 1905.
- L.C. Strong House (1876), restored home.
- Elias DeVoe House (1888), built as a showplace for DeVoe's masonry business.
- Cupola House (1934), originally a headquarters for the Coast Guard.
- Commander's Beach House (1934), original residence of Commanding Medical officer for Quarantine Center, now B&B.
- Point Hudson, Native American seasonal camp and site of Captain Vancouver's 1792 landing. Now home to an RV park, marina and various marine trades.
- Northwest Maritime Center, non-profit organization celebrating Puget Sound, its people and traditions.
- City Hall & Museum (1891), also home of the Jefferson Museum of Art & History.
- Lewis Building (1889), originally the Fowler/Caines Building.
- Franklin House (1886), Port Townsend's first fireproof brick hotel, enlarged from an 1869 wood building.
- N.D. Hill Building (1889), housed the Hill family's drug store, now the Water Street Hotel.
- Cotton (Bartlett) Building (1888).

Pictured on other side, city map:

- Manresa Castle (1892), at Sheridan St. and 7th, built by the town's first mayor, Charles Eisenbeis.
- Fort Worden (1902), museums, light-house, historical grounds, lodging and campgrounds.

MILES FROM PORT TOWNSEND

Destination	Miles	Hours	Destination	Miles	Hours
Aberdeen (via Hood Canal)	122	2.5	Kingston	40	1
Aberdeen (via Hwy 101 loop)	196	6	La Push	120	3
Anacortes (via ferry)*	41	1.5	Lake Crescent	68	1.5
Bainbridge Island ferry	51	1.25	Lake Ozette	131	3
Bellingham	70	2.5	Lake Quinalt	165	4
Bremerton	49	1	Long Beach (via Hwy 101 loop)	268	6
Brinnon	37	.75	Neah Bay	122	3
Coupeville (via ferry)*	4	.75	Olympia	99	2.5
Forks	102	2.5	Port Angeles	47	1
Hurricane Ridge	68	1.5	Portland, OR	220	4
Hoh Rain Forest	138	3.5
			Quilcene	25	.5
			Sea Tac Airport (via ferry)*	63	2
			Sea Tac Airport (via Tacoma)	100	2
			Seattle	50	1.5
			Sequim	35	.75
			Sekiu	105	2.5
			Shelton	77	1.5
			Sol Duc Hot Springs	90	2
			Tacoma	89	1.5
			Vancouver, BC	122	4
			Victoria, BC (via ferry)*	73	3

*Does not include wait time at ferry dock.